

Panel 3 Economic Governance and Gender Knowledge

Chair: Dr. Gülay Caglar, Humboldt-Universität zu Berlin

Discussant: Prof. Brigitte Young PhD, Westfälische Wilhelms-Universität, Münster

Papers:

Mariarosaria Ioro, Policy Analyst, Geneva

How is Gender Brought into Global Economic Governance?

Gender Knowledge in Policy Discourses of International Organizations

Prof. Dr. Nikita Dhawan, Johann Wolfgang Goethe-Universität, Frankfurt/M.

Gender in Development: Postcolonial Perspectives

Prof. Dr. Margareta Kreimer, Karl-Franzens-University, Graz

Engendering Economics. What kind of Gender Knowledge do We Need to Overcome the Gender Gap?

Panel 4 The Welfare-/State and Gender Knowledge (in German)

Chair: Barbara Dickhaus, Universität Kassel

Discussant: Prof. Dr. Detlef Sack, Universität Bielefeld

Papers:

Prof. Dr. Regina-Maria Dackweiler, Fachhochschule Wiesbaden

Konkurrierendes Geschlechterwissen und Gewaltschutz

Dr. Ursula Degener, Albert-Ludwigs-Universität, Freiburg

Konvergenz von Geschlechterwissen in der Sozialpolitik?

Rentenreformen in Deutschland und Schweden

12.15-13.00

Interdisciplinary Plenary Discussion: Results and Open Questions from the Panels

Reports from the rapporteurs

Facilitator: Prof. Dr. Maria do Mar Castro Varela,

Alice-Salomon Hochschule Berlin

13.00-14.30 Lunch

14.30-16.00

Round Table Discussion: The Policy-Science Interface in Governance

Prof. Brigitte Young PhD on economic governance, Westfälische Wilhelms-Universität, Münster

Dr. Helen Schwenken on migration governance, Universität Kassel

Prof. Dr. Christoph Görg on environmental governance, UFZ Leipzig-Halle

Facilitator: Prof. Dr. Christoph Scherrer, Universität Kassel

16:00 Farewell

For financial support for the symposium we kindly thank the VW Foundation and the Hessisches Ministerium für Wissenschaft und Kunst.

Participation fee: Regular: 20 €
students and unemployed persons: 10 €

Please register until May 20, 2009:

jennifertheodor@web.de

Organisers of the symposium and contacts for further inquiries:

Dr. Gülay Caglar, Humboldt-Universität zu Berlin •

guelay.caglar@gender.hu-berlin.de

Dr. Helen Schwenken, University of Kassel •

Helena.Schwenken@uni-kassel.de

For the detailed program see:

www.agrar.hu-berlin.de/struktur/institute/wisola/fg/gg/neues

The Knowledge Behind

The Role of Gender Knowledge in Policy Making

International Symposium
29-30 May 2009

Humboldt-Universität zu Berlin

Bebelplatz 1

Room 144

Convenors

Globalisierung & Politik
UNIKASSEL
VERSITÄT

In cooperation with
AK Politik und Geschlecht
in der DVPW

The knowledge behind

The Role of Gender Knowledge in Policy Making

While most policy fields have long been treated as gender neutral in the discipline of political science, feminist accounts of policy analysis have shown that they are not. However, the reasons for the gendered effects still remain underexposed. Consequently, the symposium scrutinizes the normative foundations of policy designs which lead to gendered effects. This 'gender knowledge' can reaffirm hierarchical gender orders, openly question them or range somewhere in between these two poles.

The purpose of the conference is threefold: First, the concept of gender knowledge will be scrutinized theoretically, methodologically and from different disciplinary perspectives. Second, the concept will be applied to four policy fields: environmental, economic, migration and welfare policies. The aim is to reveal the explicit and implicit assumptions about gender these policies are based upon. The comparison will offer a better understanding of the field-specific logics of knowledge and a better evaluation of the modes of in- and exclusion of gender-sensitive policy approaches. Furthermore, we expect to discuss whether the field-specific or the more general logics of gender knowledge shape governance processes.

The symposium is a collaborative project between the University of Kassel and the Humboldt-Universität zu Berlin in cooperation with the AK Politik und Geschlecht of the German Association for Political Science (DVPW).

Friday, May 29, 2009

13:30-14:30

Registration, Humboldt-Universität zu Berlin
Bebelplatz 1, Room 144

14:30-16:00

Welcome and Introduction from the Organizers

Dr. Gülay Caglar, Dr. Helen Schwenken

Round Table Discussion

Gender – Knowledge – Policy – Science

Dr. Sünne Andresen, Freie Universität Berlin

The Merit of the Concept of Gender Knowledge for Policy Analysis

Prof. Frank Fischer PhD, Rutgers University

A View from Critical Policy Analysis

Dr. Gülay Caglar, Humboldt-Universität zu Berlin

How to Analyze the Knowledge/Science-Policy Interface from a Gender Perspective?

Prof. Dr. Susanne Baer, Humboldt-Universität zu Berlin

Translating Scientific Gender Knowledge for Practitioners

16.00-16.30 Coffee Break

16.30-18:00

Plenary Session: Gender Knowledge in Biopolitics

Prof. Dr. Teresa Kulawik, University College of South Stockholm

Gender Knowledge in Reproductive Medicine

Torsten Wöllmann, Justus-Liebig Universität, Gießen

When Men became Gender: The Medical Discipline of Andrology

Facilitator: Prof. Dr. Volker Hess, Charité Berlin

18.15-19.45

Keynote Lecture: Gendered Sightings of Economic Restructuring: Whose Knowledge, Whose Practices, Whose Crisis?

Prof. Dr. Marianne Marchand, University of the Americas, Puebla, Mexico

Facilitator: Prof. Dr. Christine Bauhardt, Humboldt-Universität zu Berlin

20.15

Conference Dinner, "Good Time", Hausvogteiplatz 11, www.goodtime-berlin.de

Saturday, May 30, 2009

09.00-12.00

Four Parallel Panels

Panel 1 Gender Knowledge in Migration Theories and Policies

Chair: Dr. Helen Schwenken, Universität Kassel

Discussant: Prof. Dr. Marianne Marchand, University of the Americas, Puebla, Mexico

Papers:

Prof. Robyn Rodriguez PhD, Rutgers University, U.S.

Making Women Migrate: Gender Knowledge and Labour Migration Policies in the Philippines

Kyoko Shinozaki PhD, Johann Wolfgang Goethe-Universität, Frankfurt

'National heroes' or 'national shames'? Gender and other Knowledge in Discourses on Migrant Domestic Workers and ICT workers

Eva Bahl, Marina Ginal, Ludwig Maximilians Universität, München

Tracing Trafficking in Munich. The Academic Arts Project „Menschen(ver)handel(t)“

Panel 2 Gender and the Policy-Science Interface in Environmental and Science Governance

Chairs: Prof. Dr. Christoph Görg, Umweltforschungszentrum Leipzig-Halle and Universität Kassel

Discussant: Prof. Dr. Ulrich Brand, Universität Wien

Papers:

Dr. Irmgard Schultz, Institut für Sozial-Ökologische Forschung, Frankfurt

Gender Impact Assessment in Environmental Planning

Daniela Gottschlich, Leuphana Universität, Lüneburg

Gender Knowledge and the Governance of Nature

Rosalind Cavaghan, University of Edinburgh

EU Gender Mainstreaming in Science Policy: the Construction of a Policy Space?