

SLE

TRAINING

SLE CENTRE FOR RURAL DEVELOPMENT

For the last fifty years, SLE has provided practice-oriented training for experts and management staff in international development cooperation. This includes post-graduate studies, advanced courses for international experts and management staff, and advice on how best to qualify specialized staff in developing countries. Our link to the Humboldt University in Berlin maximizes the synthesis of theory and practice.

TRAINING FOR SPECIALIZED STAFF IN INTERNATIONAL DEVELOPMENT COOPERATION

Whether you are dealing with Management of Development Projects, Conflict Management and Conflict Transformation, Disaster Risk Management and Humanitarian Aid or Outcome Oriented Monitoring, SLE TRAINING offers customized courses in English for specialized personnel active in international development cooperation worldwide. SLE provides you with first-class, practice- and experience-based training, introduces you to practical tools and methods, and gives you individual support.

COURSES 2012

SLE plus is now SLE TRAINING

TARGET GROUP

SLE TRAINING for International Development Cooperation is directed at young professionals from all fields working in development cooperation. By selecting participants with different professional and cultural backgrounds from all over the world, the programme pursues the intercultural and interdisciplinary approach so vital to development cooperation.

TRAINING PHILOSOPHY

Learning by doing is the key element of our teaching philosophy at SLE. Case studies, exercises and/or role plays help to create an environment of common learning where participants can put the methods taught into practice. All courses are accompanied by a framework programme that allows participants to become familiar with scholarly discussions in the area of development cooperation, and to meet representatives of German governmental and non-governmental organizations active in this field.

REQUIREMENTS

A university degree equivalent to an M.A./M.Sc. and a good command of English.

FEES AND SCHOLARSHIPS

Fee per course: € 500
