

CV Denise Sumpf

Denise Sumpf is currently Political Affairs Officer for the United Nations Interim Force in Lebanon (UNIFIL), focusing on political economy analysis, governance, institution building, protection of civilians and peacekeeping. She has previously worked for the United Nations in several functions (political and economic affairs) and locations, including Thailand, Fiji, Somalia, Kenya as well as the United States. Ms. Sumpf has published internationally in books and journals on a broad range of political, economic and social development topics. Having also studied in the US (San Diego) and France (Lille), she holds a doctorate degree (Dr. rer. pol.) and a master's degree from the EBS University of Business and Law in Germany.